Proud sponsor of the 2010 Production and Operations Management Society (POMS) Conference.

operations THINK TANK management

We're building a think tank.

Setting industry standards. Augmenting the field's body of knowledge. Driving research. Leading education.

The APICS Educational and Research (E&R) Foundation is raising the bar, and then we're going to rise above it.

Grants for research that will lead industry, not follow it. Scholarships for the future generation of operations management professionals. Journals and studies that address issues at the forefront of the industry.

Exchange ideas and explore trends.

Participate in the Academic Program during the 2010 APICS International Conference & Expo in Nashville, Tennessee; developed specifically for academicians to meet with colleagues and peers to discuss perspectives on the conference's topic areas. To learn more, e-mail erfoundation@apics.org.

APICS Educational & Research Foundation, Inc.®

Building Bridges Through Partnerships

We're bringing together the operations management profession's preeminent scholars, researchers, and practitioners to create a base for the future of the profession.

What will you contribute?

Find out how to be a part of it at apics.org/erfoundation or e-mail erfoundation@apics.org.