

College of Human Behavior in Operations Management Reception and Dinner
Reno, Nevada
Thursday April 28th

Following the success of last year, the POMS College of Human Behaviour in Operations Management will be organizing a pre-conference reception and dinner around the main POMS conference in Reno, Nevada, this year. This event consists of a pre-conference dinner including a prominent guest speaker on Thursday April 28th (18.00 to 21.30).

Agenda:

Welcome Reception with Guest Speaker to be held in Tuscan 4 Room, Peppermill Resort from 6:00 to 7:30 P.M.

Guest Speaker: Professor Bob Emiliani

Bob's desire to work on the most difficult aspects of Lean has resulted in enormous progress in understanding how Lean leaders think and behave, their competencies, and what it takes to lead a Lean business. Bob is a teacher and a writer. He teaches managers how to lead a Lean business and writes books and papers that are unique in their topics and perspectives. Bob is the author of "Real Lean" and "Better Thinking, Better Results".

This will be followed by dinner in Sierra Private Dining Room, Peppermill Resort from 8:00 to 9:30 P.M.

Member, delegates and guests are welcome.

Cost $65 (Full members) $35 (Students) to include dinner and welcome reception drinks.

We look forward to see you all in Reno!
