About the Society

The Production and Operations Management Society (POMS) is an international professional organization representing the interests of POM professionals from around the world. The purposes of the Society are:

- to extend and integrate knowledge that contributes to the improved understanding and practice of production and operations management (POM);
- to disseminate information on POM to managers, scientists, educators, students, public and private organizations, national and local governments, and the general public; and
- to promote the improvement of POM and its teaching in public and private manufacturing and service organizations throughout the world

The society's web page may be found at: <http://www.poms.org/>

About the Conference

The POMS 2014 Annual Conference represents a milestone for the society as it is the 25th anniversary of our very first conference! Consistent with this celebration and to honor the impact POMS members have made to the profession, we have selected the conference theme: Impact and Vision: Reaching New Heights.

The conference provides the opportunity to share academic research through a series of paper presentations. Additionally, the conference provides a forum for industry speakers to challenge and motivate future academic research with relevance to practice. The majority of participants are faculty at colleges and universities.

About our Venue in Atlanta

Our conference hotel is the Atlanta Marriott Marquis located in the center of Atlanta, Georgia, U.S.A. The hotel is magnificently situated in the heart of downtown Atlanta and is within walking distance of top attractions including the Georgia Aquarium, World of Coca-Cola, and Centennial Olympic Park. The conference hotel also provides easy access to the Atlanta Braves at Turner Field, CNN Studios, the High Museum of Art, the Atlanta Botanical Gardens, Fernbank Science Center, and Stone Mountain Park. Finally, Atlanta is a mecca for shopping (including Lenox and Phipps Plaza Malls) as well as golf.
