operations THINK TANK management

We're building a think tank.

Setting industry standards. Augmenting the field's body of knowledge. Driving research. Leading education.

The APICS Educational and Research (E&R) Foundation is raising the bar, and then we're going to rise above it.

Grants for research that will lead industry, not follow it. Scholarships for the future generation of operations management professionals. Journals and studies that address issues at the forefront of the industry.

Exchange ideas and explore trends.

Participate in the Academic Program during the 2010 APICS International Conference & Expo in Nashville, Tennessee; developed specifically for academicians to meet with colleagues and peers to discuss perspectives on the conference's topic areas.
